INVESTIGATING BOGOTÁ
 The material on pages 20 and 21 can be used in a variety of ways to support students' investigation. See some of the suggestions and starting-points shown below.

What do students know about 'or associate with Bogotá?' Colombia? An initial brainstorm could share ideas.

Students in groups could be given this information on a set of cards. They could be asked to discuss the merits and drawback of each approach and to express a view as to whether any of these would work in their own town or city.

How do some of these key statistics compare with other cities? Is there anything that surprises students?

What evidence can be gained from these sources about progress and issues in Bogotá in building citizenship? What other information would students like to find out?

These websites offer a useful starting point for further research.

Strategies for building citizenship in Bogotá

Role of the Mayor
 Bogotá currently has a mayor who is elected for a four-year term. The mayor is responsible for the city's administration and for the implementation of the city's policies. The mayor is also responsible for the city's budget and for the city's infrastructure.

Citizen Cards
 A group of 1000 citizens in Bogotá have been given 'Citizen Cards'. These cards give citizens the right to participate in the city's decision-making process. The cards also give citizens the right to vote in the city's elections.

Mission Bogotá
 Mission Bogotá is a project that aims to improve the lives of the people of Bogotá. The project is based on the idea of 'mission' and is designed to help the people of Bogotá to build a better future for themselves.
